GEN. PAEZ, OF VENEZUELA. -Advices from Caraccas announce the departure from that place, August 14th, of Gen. Paez, now for the third time a voluntary exile from his country, seeking a peaceful retirement in the United States. His return to Venezuela a few years ago in one of the vessels then fitting out for the expedition to Paraguay is well remembered. He went in response to the urgent call of a deputation from the Venezuelan Government, at much sacrifice of personal feeling, but in obedlence to the claims of patriotism. It became necessary for him to assume the powers of a "dictatorship," but the country enjoyed only a measure of repose. The strife continued, however, with but little vigor; and only a few weeks ago the contending factions finally united in the treaty of Coche. Gereral Falcon, having received the nomination of the convention of Valencia as Provisnal President, has since entered the capital mid the rejoicings of the people, and the New York Journal of Commerce says he has brought to his aid a large amount of administrative ability in the choice of a ministry. Dr. Irrubarren, Minister of the Treasury, and Gen. Manuel Bruzual, Minister of War and Marine, are spoken of with high commendation by intelligent Americans residing in the republic. Puerto Cabello is the only place of any importance which remains to the insurgents. Rojas, late Secretary-General, is supposed to be on his way to the United States. So long torn and prostrated by internal dissensions, there is reason to hope Venezuela will hereafter be a more creditable representative of republican institutions, and long be devoted to the arts of peace. Meanwhile the venerable ex-President will find a hospitable home on these shores. He is accompanied by Generals Garedo, Garcia, and Hagadon, the latter bearer of despatches to Washington. . A COTTON AGENT .- Mr. Samuel Smith, of Liverpool, who has just returned from India, where he investigated the cotton culture, reports that large supplies of that staple can be drawn from India by excessive prices-in other words, that the experiment is virtually a failure. He says: "There can be nothing but ruinous loss to the cotton interests of England and the continent till the trade with the Southern ports of America is resumed, for it is perfectly evident that the efforts of other countries than India to fill the place of America will prove, at least for many years, equally unavailing. Supposing American cotton ruled for some years at 9d to 12d per pound, Indian would sell at 7d to 9d per pound, a price that would not only maintain the present enlarged scale of production, but encourage a steady increase. India might furnish to Europe at those prices one and a half millions of bales annually in the place of half a million, and this, with liberal additions from other countries, might about make up for the deficiency of American cotton."

IMPROMPTU PRESENTATION .- At the residence of a well known gentleman of this city, Monday evening, a party of officers and government employees assempled to present to Charles H. Irvin, recently promoted to a Cap-taincy, and who has over a year faithfully performed the arduous duties of Quartermaster in this city, a splendid sword, sash, and belt. The presentation was devised and the articles purchased by the clerks of Lieutenant Irvin's department, who were with him since sumed the duties of the department, upon The affair was strictly impromptu, as no one but the buyers of the articles were in the secret, Capt. Irvin being as much in the dark as anybody. The company comprised many of the resident officers and heads of departments, and during the evening Mr. J. Randolph Bull ted the sword with the following pertinent remarks:

'Captain Charles H. Irvin, "SIR: I have been deputed by your old employees in the Department to present you this sword, sash, and belt. You came among us JEFFERSON COUNTY COURT—Monday, Sept. 7. almost a stranger, but your uniform kindues.

The promo-tion you have lately received we all know you have faithfully earned by your untiring devotion to the interests of the government we are serving. artielt regard we entertain for you."
Capt. Irvin received the sword, and, in rey, thanked the donors for their magnificent sent, and pledged them to use it only to hold the cause of liberty and union, and, i need be, never to sheath it until this cruel war is ended, and the bright morning of peace egain dawns upon our once happy land. Al-luding to the many pleasant associations which had endeared the donors to him, he hoped that they would, as heretofore, contin-ue, and his duties in Nashville would be re-membered by him as among the most pleas-ant of his life.

Speeches, song, and sentiment followed the remarks of the Captain, and at an early hour the party separated, each with a full sense of having enjoyed a pleasant evening and of witnessing an impromptu presentation.

THE BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG .- Laying aside all party aspects, the war in America, looked upon simply as a war, ought to put human nature in this nineteenth century to shame. It is not even war on modern civilized dimensions; it is war on a barbaric scale. It is ancient war revived. * * * This war combines the newest military inventions with the oldest type of horror and destruction. If any one was not satisfied of this from former descriptions he might have been from the results of the battle of Gettysburg, as just now suits of the battle of Gettysburg, as just now more fully and accurately reported. We call it the battle because it was to all intents and purposes one battle. We have there in one battle 40,000 killed and wounded—i. e., a whole army put hors de combat. Of these 10,000 are killed on the spot. Fancy such a solid mass of slaughter to be the work of one battle. Ten thousand dead bodies on one field! Is it a scene of a civilized, mercantile.

[Correspondence of the Louisville Journal.] GREEN RIVER BRIDGE, Sept. 3.
In honor of the completion of the splendid new bridge over Green River, under the supervision of the worthy soldier and untiring workman, Lieut. M. A. Hogen, on Thursday, the battle is over. He is insolent, arrogant, and selfish, and his government is a curse to the soil he has won. And that is the curse under which a large part of the United States now groans. There is a flash of heroism while the storm of the battle lasts, but the steady temptations of every-day life in a hostile country sap a moral foundation which was never strong, and make the soldier too often a grasping tyrant. Unfortunate America now feels his iron grasp, and it may be long before she is released from it.

The car his, the citizens of Taylor and the adjoining counties will assemble for the purpose of witnessing the raising of the beautiful flag presented by the Government to the gallant soldiers of Green River fame, as a reward for their heroic deeds and indomitable courage. The staunch patriot, Mr. Chandler, of Campbellsville, and others, will be present on the occasion and address the assemblage. The loyal ladies of the vicinity will give a large dinner to the noble boys who have left their homes to fight, and if need be die, in defence of our glorious Union.

This monotony has been broken, however, and the Cave is again beginning to share some what of "the glory of old days."

Several large parties have, with your corres-ondent, shared the princely hospitality of our old friend Owsley within the past month, the most noteworthy of the these parties being composed of a newly-married couple and their happy retinue, embracing half a dozen ladies and their escorts from Christian and Trigg counties. A refugee from Columbus, Miss., has arrived here, who has been in the Quartermaster's Department of the rebel army for the past two years, and has had more than ordinary opportunities for observing, states that Johnston's losses were fifty men per night by desertion. His army is dispirited and demoralized, and those who have not deserted only wait for an opportunity to do so.

Rebel officers estimate the number of troops between Columbus, Miss., and Corinth at seven thousand. Two regiments of Johnston's army have been sent to Georgia, and two came up to Okolona recently to repel an expected Yankee raid.

Reconstruction committees were appointed by the Unionists in the vicinity of Columbus, but the movement was suppressed by the military. There is a strong latent Union feeling among the inhabitants, which is becoming more open and bold in manifestation.

Citizens regard the rebel troops as oppressors and invaders, and look anxiously for the advance of the Yankees among them. Deserters from Bragg's army reached here, stating that they are on third rations, which consists of beef, rice, and corn meal tain unconditional devotion to the Union, and I am sure my old political friends will thank me for tendering, as I do, the nation's gratitude to those other noble men whom no partisan malice or partisan hope can make false to the nation's life. There are those who are dissatingly with me. To such I would say you isfied with me. To such I would say, you desire peace, and you blame me that we do not have it; but how can we attain it? There are but three conceivable ways. First—To suppress the rebellion by force of arms. This it, a second way is to give up the Union. If am against this. Are you for it? If you are, you should say so plainly. If you are not for force, nor yet for dissolutions there are the second says of the second seco lution, there only remains some imaginary compromise. I do not believe that any compromise embracing the maintenance of the Union is now possible. All I learn leads to a directly opposite belief. The strength of the rebellion is in its military—its army—that army dominates all the contract of the strength of the rebellion is in its military—its army—that army dominates all the country and all the people within its range.

Any offer of terms made by any man or cause such man or men have no power what-ever to enforce their side of a compromise, if one were made with them. To illustrate, sup-pose refugees from the South and peace men pose refugees from the South and peace men from the North meet together in convention army can keep Lee's army out of Pennsyl vania, and, I think, can ultimately drive it out of existence; but no paper compromise to agreed can at all affect that army.

In an effort at such compromise we should waste time, which the enemy would improve to our disadvantage, and that would be all. A compromise to be effective must be made either with those who control the rebel army or with the people first liberated from the domination of that army by the successes of our army. Now, allow me to assure you that no word or intimation from that rebei army, or from any of the men controlling it, in relation to any peace compromise, has ever come to my knowledge or belief. All charges and intimations to the contrary are deceptive and ground-less; and I promise you that if any such proposition shall hereafter come it shall not be rected and kept secret from you.

I freely acknowledge myself the servant of the people, according to the bond of the service—the United States Constitution and as such I am responsible to them. But, to be plain, you are dissatisfied with me about the negro. Quite likely there is a difference of pinion between you and myself upon that sub-ct. I certainly wish that all men could be free, while I suppose you do not. Yet I have neither adopted nor proposed any measure which is not consistent with even your view provided you are for the Union. I sug gested compensated emancipation, to which you replied you wished not to be taxed to buy negroes. But I had not asked you to be taxed to buy negroes except in such way as to save you from greater taxation to sav be brought to life.

Some of you profess to think its retraction would operate favorably for the Union. Why better after the retraction than before the issue? There was more than a year and a half of trial to suppress the rebellion before the proclamation issued; the last one hundred days of which passed under explicit notice that it was coming unless averted by those in revolt returning to their allegiance. as before. I know as fully as one can know the opinions of others, that some of the com-manders of our armies in the field, who have colored troops constitute the heaviest blow yet dealt to the rebellion, and that at least have been achieved when it was but for the aid of black soldiers.

Among the commanders holding these views are seme who have never had any affinity with what is called abolitionism, or with Republican party politics, but who hold them purely as military opinions. I submit these ation and arming the blacks are unwise as military measures, and were not adopted as such in good faith. You say that you will not fight to free negroes. Some of them seem willing to fight for you. But no matter; Wilning to light for you. But no matter, fight you then exclusively to save the Union. I issued the proclamation on purpose to aid you in saving the Union. Whenever you shall have conquered all resistance to the Union, if I shall urge you to continue fighting, it will be an apt time then for you to dethought that in your struggle for the Union, elping the enemy, to that extent it weakened the enemy in his resistance to you. Do you think differently?

I thought that whatever negroes can be got to do as soldiers leaves just so much less for white soldiers to do in saving the Union. Does white soldiers to do in saving the Union. Does it appear otherwise to you? But negroes, like other people, and upon motives. Why should they do anything for us if we will do nothing for them? If they stake their lives for us they must be prompted by the strongest motive—even the promise of freedom—and, the promise being made, must be the treat. The signs look better. The Father of kept. The signs look better. The Father of Waters again goes unvexed to the sea. Thanks to the great Northwest for it. Nor yet wholly Jersey hewing their way right and left. The of the history was jotted down in black and white. The job was a great national one, and let none be banned who bore an honorable part in it. While those who have cleared the great river may well be proud, even that is not all. It is hard to say that anything has been more bravely and well done than at Antietam, Murfreesboro, Gettysburg, and on many fields of lesser note. Nor must Uncle Sam's webbed feet be forgotten. At all the watery margins they have been present; not only on the deep sea, the broad bay, and the rapid rivers, but also up the narrow, muddy bayou; and wherever the ground was a little damp they have been and made their tracks. Thanks to all for the great Republic, for the principle it lives by and keeps alive—for man's vast future—thanks

Peace does not appear so distant as it did. I hope it will come soon, and come to stay, and so come as to be worth the keepto stay, and so come as to be worth the keeping in all future time. It will then have been proved that among freemen there can be no successful appeal from the ballot to the bullet, and that they who take such appeal are sure to lose their cause and pay the cost. And then there will be some black man who can remember that with silent a speedy final triumph. Let us be quite sober. Let us diligently apply the means, never doubting that a just God in his own

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 9, 1863.

At the request of Gen. Rosecrans, masses were said in the Roman Catholic churches of Cincinnati on Monday for the success of his army. We hope that these masses held in Cincinnati will be, under the favor of God, no less potent in the achievement of a mighty victory than the serried masses under the gallant General's command. We regard this religious rite as the indication of an immediate or speedy battle. The expectation in Cincinnati seems to have been that Chattanooga would be attacked yesterday.

ly expressed its conviction that the next great battle of the war would be for the possession of East Tennessee, and undoubtedly the Enquirer spoke with a knowledge of the designs of the Confederate civil and military authorities. Those authorities know that it would be death to their cause to give up East Tennessee either willingly or by compulsion, inasmuch as the possession of the Tennessee and Virginia railroad and the Western and Atlantic railroad, both of which would then be held by surface than their own, the particles of coolingus, would sever and destroy what is left of the Confederacy. Hence we cannot but think it gether as in the Rodman process. certain that vast rebel preparations, vast we mean in proportion to rebel resources, have been made for a grand struggle at Chattanooga. The defeat of the Confederacy there would be its death. The work before Rosecrans and Burnside is scarcely less full of peril than victory, if won, will be of glory. The relative situations of the belligerent armies are such, that, if the Union Generals achieve a victory at all, it will be a mighty, an overwhelming one, involving the capture or destruction of the whole Confederate host.

We have referred, more than once, to the notorious fact, that in most cases where men, after having gone from Kentucky and aimed at an object the gun is aimed side by joined the rebel army, have returned at vari- | side with them, just as when one barrel of a ous times and taken the oath of allegiance, double barrelled gun is aimed at an object, they have proved false to that oath, either voing directly back at the first opportunity and | that in aiming one of the monitor guns the resuming arms against the Federal Govern. It is an ascertained fact, as we stated the | not to exceed two or three hundred yards disother day, that a large portion of those rebels, tance. who for some time past have been captured and sent to the various Western Military Prisons, are found, from the records, to be persons who came home from a first instalment of Confederate service, and, after taking the oath here and giving the necessary bonds, returned to "Dixie" and entered upon a second instalment. This fact, alike startling and infamous, should, in connection with other facts named, convince our military authorities of several things-first, the propriety of being exceedingly careful and distrustful in regard to permitting returning rebels to take the oath of allegiance and remain among us as free citizens; secondly, the importance of forcing the pecuniary penalties of all forfeited bonds to the last farthing; and, thirdly, the necessity of punishing the recaptured, perjured, doublydyed traitors to the uttermost extent of military law. Only in some preculiar and extreme case should a returning rebel, especially a guerilla, be allowed to take the oath, give bond, and remain here; we doubt whether in ony case the penalty of a forfeited bond should of years or months before asserting their be left unenforced; and surely in every case, where men once released under oath and bond, are recaptured in arms, the amplest physical guarantee should be taken against the possibility of the criminal's ever doing any more work in the rebel ranks. Our government must make itself a terror to the miscreants, or it will be their scorn and derision. All along they have been mocking it by their words and their acts, and they are doing so still as far as they dare. There will be sales of stock at midday, daily, by Marshal Alfriend in the amphitheatre, and we think this will have the effect to bring a large number of valuable animals on the ground.

On the third day of the Fair, Thursday, the 17th inst., there will be an additional ring introduced for mares or geldings driven to rockaways. This has been done at the request of gentlemen who feel a pride in their teams and turnouts, and wish to display them, and it will doubtless he one of the most attractive features of the Fair.

Power Hall deserves the particular attention of manufacturers, as it has been placed in fine order for the reception of all competing articles. The machinery will be driven by about twenty-five horse-power, and the shafting is prepared on the same extensive le as was arranged for the United States Fair in 1857. The Superintendent, Mr. Wm. Lennox, will be found on the Fair Grounds during the day, ready to locate articles for all who may see proper to make entries. We hope to see liberal contributions to this department, which always adds so much to the interest of our agricultural exhibitions.

Floral Hall, to which Mr. Lawrence Young. the zealous pomologist, has volunteered his services, has been beautifully arranged, and Everything is ready for the anticipated display of flowers in pots and bouquets, dairy and pantry products, the yields of orchard and fruit gardens, vegetables, grapes, grains and seeds, paintings, needle-work, domestic manufactures, and all the variety which generally makes Floral Hall a great centre of attraction during fair week.

LOUISVILLE THEATRE. - The domestic drama of Madaline, or the Foundling of Paris, in which Miss Charlotte Thompson appears this evening, is of thrilling interest and most admirably constructed. As the light-hearted belle of the Faubourg," as the suffering wife and despairing mother, and in the intense agony of the circumstances which compel her to place her babe in the foundling hospital to save its life, because she has been robbed by her husband of her hoarded means to procure medical treatment, there is room for the exhibition of great dramatic powers, and Miss T. is every way qualified to develop them.

Wood's THEATRE.—Balfe's opera of the Bohemian Girl has held possession of the stage on account of the extreme popularity of its ballads and the melodic richness of its choruses. While sweet music captivates the soul, these gems must shine resplendent, and they will always appeal with irresistible force advantage than in the Bohemian Girl, which time. They are attracting excellent houses and meet deserved success.

PRISONERS ARRIVED .- Twenty-five prisoners of war arrived on the Nashville train last night. Twenty-six are on their way to be exchanged, and Wm. TELEGRAPHIC NEWS. MORNING DESPATCHES

The Situation Near Chattanooga.

Supposed Designs of the Rebels. Probability of a Battle Soon.

Rebel Georgian Officers Shot.

TRENTON, GA., Sept. 8. The army crossed Raccoon Mountain unobstructed, and advanced ten miles from Chattaocga, with the infantry concentrated ready or action. The enemy's position and movements are doubtful Crittenden reports them at Chattanooga fifty thousand strong. Their cavalry is re-treating rapidly toward Atlanta. Wilder is opposite Chattanooga, and reports the rebels busy night and day building pontoon boats. It is thought that they intend to move north, attack and overwhelm Burnside, push upon Nashville, or go to Kentucky, threatening the communications of this army, thus forcing it to fall back. Failing to defeat Burnside, it is thought they will retreat to Richmond, reinforce Lee, and fall on Meade.

Negley and Wood reconneitred on the Look out Mountain yesterday and found the front strongly picketed. An attempt to cross will be strongly opposed. This range only sepaopinion that a great battle must soon ensue.

The Chattanooga Rebel of the 4th inst. says
Burnside attacked London on the 3d inst.
The rebels destroyed the bridge and moved.

Forcest hurnt his own train. orrest burnt his own train. The Rebel of the 5th inst. calls on Governor Brown of Georgia to assume command of the State militia in the impending conflict.
Capt. White, of the 4th Georgia cavalry, was shot at Chattanooga on Friday as a deserter and spy. Capt. Rhoades, of the same regiment, was shot, and all regimental officers of the 4th Georgia reduced to the ranks the same day, for encouraging deserters and aiding conscripts to escape. Negley's reconnoissance succeeded admira-ly. He got on to Lookout Mountain, and now holds it, strongly supported. [We regret that we are unable to give our eaders this morning a full telegraphic report. A heavy storm was prevailing East, and the lines were interrapted early last night. Hence our usual morning report failed to reach us, and we are compelled to omit it .- EDS. JOUR.] A RECKLESS GENERAL .- General Payne, of llinois, commands a brigade in the Army of the Cumberland, composed of Illinois and Ohio troops. A soldier of the 79th Ohio sends to the Dayton Journal the following in reference to this officer: One day a wealthy old lady, whose plantation was in the vicinity of the camp, came in and inquired for General Payne. When the commander made his appearance, the old lady, in warm language, at once acquainted him with the fact that his men had stolen her ast coop full of chickens, and demanded their estitution or their value in currency. "I am sorry for you, madam," replied the General; "but I can't help it. The fact is, madsm, we are determined to squelch out the rebellion if it takes every d-d chicken in

This exhibition of utter recklessness of means for the accomplishment of a purpose, which the old lady deemed most foul, temporarily deprived her of the power of speech, and she passed from the presence of the Gen eral without asserting her right to "the last

THE NORTHEASTERN FORTIFICATIONS .- The following is from the Boston Traveller of the 31st of August: Not a long time will now elapse before the fortifications of Boston harbor will be fully defended against attacks from iron-clads and other vessels by the mounting of a large number of 15-inch Rodman guns. The Government agents are now hard at work in the preparations for mounting these guns, a number of which, cast at Alger's foundery, have already been landed on the forts of the har-bor. The carriages of these guns, which are monuments of skill and ingenuity, were manufactured at the Watertown Arsenal. It per of which, cast at Alger's founder is stated that the cost of mounting one of risges will be between four and five hundred

The Salem (Mass.) Register, of August 31st, has the following: The reconstruction of Forts Pickering and

The reconstruction of Forts Pickering and Lee is being steadily prosecuted. Some two hundred and eighty men are employed, and there is still room for more. As the agricul-tural demand for laborers is diminishing the works on Salem Neck offer a good opportuni-ty for employment. We understand that a considerable addition to the force is desirable, in order to hasten the completion before the winter months arrive.

BLOCKADE BREAKING .- Mr. Seward will eny Mr. Bovill the opportunity he enjoyed in the Assize Court of Croydon, on Monday last of cross examining the charterer of the Peter hoff. Of course, Mr. Seward knows very wel in a general way, how these matters are man-aged. People like to back their opinions and render their sympathies profitable; and they make a purse, and they choose a swift ship, and they stuff her hold with gunpowder and ninine, and other articles equally contraband or their power to kill and their power to cure; and then they get a desperate crew, a daring captain, and a shrewd supercargo, and away ne goes, to break the blockade if she can, to et to Matamoras if she must, or to land her ombustibles at some conveniently proximate port, if every other attempt fails. Mr. Seward knows all this; but ne ther he nor Mr. Adams have been able to get at the details of these arrangements. Mr. Adams is kept in such Egyptian darkness that it is said the very ship to which he had actually granted that fa-mous pass to Matamoras had just been taken and found to be crammed with contraband of war. Mr. Seward cannot be expected to know any more than Mr. Adams knows; but he might have got a good deal of information out of that Mr. Kahnweiler, "of Frankfort and of Wilmington in the Confederate States of America," who was discontented with the ultimate appropriation of some saltpetre and sulphur, which he had destined for Charleston, but which had arrived at New York. Mr. Kahnweiler, in the witness box, would have told a much more interesting story under the cross-examination of Mr. Seward than he did under that of Mr. Revill who confined him. under that of Mr. Bovill, who confined himself, naturally, to the case of his own client, an individual who, as a brother blockade-breaker, would not find his interest in unnecessary revelations .- London Times A JUDGE HANGED FOR MURDER.—Cyrus Tater, formerly Probate Judge for Lykins (now Miami) county, Kansas, was hung for the murder of a man near the city of Omaha, in June last. The circumstances, as we learn them from R. Crozier, Esq, who to-day returned from a business tour up the river, are as follows: Mr. Tater was at Pike's Peak, and desired to return to Kansas. He had no money to pay his passage, but made an arrangement with a man who was returning to Omaha to carry him to that city. When near that place, Tater murdered the man, took his money, and threw the body in the river. He then purchased a quantity of goods, and had prepared return to Pike's Peak with the murdered man's team. Suspicions were directed against nim, a search made for the missing man, and the body found in the river. Tater was arrested, tried, found guilty, and on Friday last was executed.

Mr. Tater sustained a good character while in Kansas. He was Probate Judge of his county, and was engaged in milling and the ry goods business at Ossawattomie just be-ore he left the State. He became involved with his creditors, and to retrieve his fortunes he made a trip over the plains. The news of his fate will be received by his former acintences with sadness and regret, that a an with a character sustained by him, while citizen of Kansas, should be guilty of so A TERRIBLE AFFAIR NEAR GOSHEN, OHIO .-

We learn from Major C. G. Megrue the par-ticulars of a dreadful affair which occurred on Saturday last near Goshen. The particulars are that on that evening a small crowd of utternuts" had assembled in the vicinity of he town, and four of them resolved that in fulfilment of a previous threat they would clean out" a negro tenant living on the farm f a Mrs. Smizer. They accord on their journey, and arrived after dark. The negro had learned of their coming, and pro-vided himself with a double-barreled shotgun for the purpose of defending his domicile.

As they approached making hostile demonstrations, he fired upon them, killing a man named Williams, residing near Newtown, and another named Marion Shields, formerly a soldier in the Federal army. The attack being continued, and the ammunition of the dee being exhausted, the negro seized a skil let, with which he so belabored his third antaganist as to place him hors de combat. The fourth took to his heels, and made good his retreat.—Cin. Times, 7th.

ng for that point, and therefore, report says einforcements for the garrison. I am in ined to believe, however, that the true reason r sending these troops is to keep the negro diers—the only ones there—in proper sub most prodigiously! And, apropos of negroes, they carry things with a high hand here now. A white man is considered as respectable as a negro if he behaves himself unusually quiet, orderly, and submissively. Squads continually perambulate the streets and bring into the depots all those hesitating or unwilling to fast for that those hesitating or unwilling to fight for that much-abused boon, liberty. No negro has been safe from their clutch, and now, since the "Corps d'Afrique" order, which I believe has been sent you, there will be a general impress-ment of the able-bodied but not unwashed and unterrified. Public meetings of negroes is no isual occurrence—they meet anywhere, everywhere, deliberate gravely on 'portance," and send rockets kiting through the air by way of interlude. The negro sol-diers not on duty carry their side-arms and a revolver or knife as an additional implement -these latter they conceal, however. Ni before last a negro let his "shootin' iron" off in a house and nearly blew the face off a little white girl from her proximity to the weapon. White men cannot carry weapons of any description.

A great city is New Orleans at present, begrimed and black as the devil's soul is said to be. Why, even the bronze statues (that were) of the immortal Harry of the West, and the hero of Chalmette, have become as black as my coat or the ink I write—in keeping with the sable character of the surroundingsseeming blackamoors! The Western troops here now cannot tolerate the "nigger sojers," and "give them fits" on every conceivable occasion. I am told that even the New England troops had to be removed from above to below the city, as the Western boys could not stomach the smell of codifich and critical Control codfish and onions! Great boys are those same Western chaps. They are as full of fun as they are of genuine bravery and endurance, and I regret very much that all of them are not in a condition to enjoy themselves. The small-pox, though not to an alarming extent, best prespects, however, of its spread being

Your readers will not, of course, consider me as speaking semi-officially, or with 'most miraculous organ," if I undertake to ventilate a few particulars regarding the expedition against that State its citizens at $20 at 50c. Sales shipstuffs at $20 $2 ton, shorts at $17. pedition against that State its citizens claimed before the war as the Empire State of the South; though I always considered Georgia as entitled to that appellation.

ousas Railroad has a clear track to Brashear City; that the troops will not be landed at the Bay, but at Courte Blanche, fifteen miles from Franklin, bordering on Grand Bay; that heavy skirmishing will take place near Alex-andria, on Red river, and the great fight beond. This for the reason that the successor Dick Taylor, Gen. Green, has 30,000 Conderates at the Bay (I don't believe has 5,000 sell 10,000 or more at Lake Providence. not far eff in Arkansas and Magruder in Texas with no inconsiderable forces of men. Parties arrived in the city yesterday state that Gen. Osterhaus's division has met with disaster in Mississippi, and himself captured. I cannot say that it is reliable—on the contrary, do not believe it.

Nothing in the papers this morning (Saturday, 29th), of the slightest importance.

Last Sunday a flag of truce was sent to Brashear City from the epposite side of the Bay, with a demand for the surrender of Brashear City. The reply to the Confederates was "Come and take it." It has not been taken. Brashear has since been strengthened by additional troops and 18 heavy guns.

Bayou Sara on the Orleans side of the bank, by which one man was shot through the lungs and killed and thirteen wounded. The John Raine is one of that class of war vessels fixed up to compose a "marine brigade," as you already know. It is not believed that unarmed and unprotected river boats, pursuing lawful traffic, will be molested.

Extract from General Order No. 41, to which reference is had in the above order: IV. In order that the impressment may not hinder and materially injure the cultivation of and the harvesting and gathering of the crops for the subsistence of the country, it is ordered that when a citizen has but one male negro laborer, he will not be impressed under this order. DIED.

At her mother's residence, in Oldham county, Mrs mber, 1863. The funeral will take place to-day at 4 P. M. At the residence of his mother, Mrs. Martha T Wilson, Bullitt county, Kentucky, Friday morning September 4th, 1863, John Fry Wilson. September 4th, 1863, John Ffry Wilson.

The decessed was born February 5th, 1839, and when but seventeen years old his father died, leaving the care of the farm and business suddenly upon his shoulders. Faithfully and successfully did he discharze his duty toward all concerned. As a son he was obedient, affectionate, considerate; as a brother, g nide and leving; as a citizen, irreproachable in conduct and of moral conduct above suspicion.

For more than a year before his death he had indulged in a hope in a change of heart, though he had not publicly united with God's people. During different periods of his last illness he spoke of that hope. His suffering with typhoid fever lasted some sevenwill long be picclude to a large of the for or or or or of the countries and friends.

In Nicholasville, Ky., August 31, 1863, of acute dysentery, Samuel Regert, infant son of J. C. and Lizzie D. Welch, aged 13 months and 3 days.

Mysterions and inscrutable are the ways of Providence! The heary-headed sinner has length of days added to his years of iniquity and sin, while the tender bud of joycus innocence is prematurely cut down and assigned a habitation "among the pale nations of the earth." Death is no respecter of persons; no age, no sex, no condition of life, is free from the blighting touch of his eighingers. The fairest flowers and the brightest gems of earth are suddenly despoiled of all their loveliness and radiant beauty on the approach of the swift-winged messenger, Death. But, beyond this vale of tears, we are assured there shall be a grand reunion of kindred spirits in the haven of eternal reg.
